ALLEGATIONS COMMON TO ALL CAUSES OF ACTION

I. The Merger

16 6. In 2009, Richard Komaiko, among others, founded Amicus Media LLC 17 ("Amicus"). Amicus would become an Internet based legal advertising and 18 marketing agency that focused on generating clients for law firms.

19 7. LegalZoom is the nation's leading provider of personalized, online legal 20 solutions and legal documents for small business owners and families. Among other 21 things, LegalZoom operates an attorney accessibility service on its Internet website, 22 whereby users ("Potential Clients") who seek an attorney can conveniently locate 23 an attorney and, if they choose, can have LegalZoom provide their contact 24 information and the issue for which they seek legal advice to attorneys that have a 25 relationship with LegalZoom.

26 8. On or about August 7, 2014, LegalZoom, LZ Local, LLC (a wholly 27 owned subsidiary of LegalZoom that facilitated connecting law firms with the 28 Potential Clients, and hereinafter "LZ Local"), Amicus, Komaiko (individually and

1 as a representative of the shareholders of Amicus), Bei Bei Que (“Que”) and Bryan
2 Harris entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger (the “Merger Agreement”), a 3 true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit “A”.

4 9. Among other things, the Merger Agreement provides that:

5 2.22 Full Disclosure. This Agreement (including the 6 Disclosure Schedule) does not: (a) contain any 7 representation, warranty or information that is false or 8 misleading with respect to any material fact; or, (b) to the 9 Knowledge of the Company, omit to state any material 10 fact necessary in order to make the representations, 11 warranties and information contained and to be contained 12 herein and therein (in the light of the circumstances under 13 which such representations, warranties and information 14 were or will be made or provided) not false or 15 misleading. There is no information or other fact that is or 16 may become materially adverse to the business, condition, 17 assets, capitalization, Intellectual Property, Intellectual 18 Property Rights, liabilities, operations, results of 19 operations, financial performance or prospects of the 20 Company.

21 (Exh. A, ¶ 2.22, underscore added.)

22 10. Under the terms of the Merger Agreement, LZ Local was to be merged 23 in to Amicus, which was thereafter to be a wholly owned subsidiary of LegalZoom.

24 11. Further,

25 Concurrently with the execution of this Agreement, and as 26 a condition and inducement to the willingness of Parent to 27 enter into this Agreement, each Key Employee is (i) 28 executing and delivering an offer letter to the Surviving

1 Company; and (ii) executing and delivering a Non-2 Competition and Non-Solicitation Agreement (the “Non- 3 Compete Agreement”) in favor of the Company and 4 Parent.

5 (Exh. B, Recital C, underscore added.) Komaiko is identified in the Merger
 6 Agreement as a Key Employee.

7 12. Komaiko did, in fact, execute the required the Non-Compete 8 Agreement, expressly “in favor of, and for the benefit of” LegalZoom, a true and 9 correct copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit “B”.

10 13. Among other things, the Non-Compete Agreement provides that,

11 2. No Hiring or Solicitation of Employees,
 12 Consultants or Independent Contractors; No
 13 Interference with Customers, Sponsors, Etc. The 14 Designated Person [i.e., Komaiko] agrees that, during the 15 Noncompetition Period, the Designated Person shall not,
 16 and the Designated Person shall ensure that his Affiliates 17 do not:

18 ...

19 (b) directly or indirectly, personally or through 20 others, encourage, induce, attempt to induce, 21 solicit or attempt to solicit (on the Designated 22 Person’s own behalf or on behalf of any other 23 Person) any Specified Individual^[1]to leave

25 ¹ ““Specified Individual” shall mean any individual who is or was an employee, 26 consultant or independent contractor of or to [Amicus] on, or during the 60 days 27 prior to, the Effective Date and who accepts employment or another service relationship with Parent or its Affiliates.” (Exh. B, ¶ 14(h)) his or her employment, consulting or independent contractor relationship with [LegalZoom] or any of [LegalZoom's] Affiliates^[2];

28

(c) directly or indirectly, personally or through others, interfere or attempt to interfere with the relationship of [LegalZoom] or any of [LegalZoom's] Affiliates with any Specified Business Contact^[3];

(Exh. B, ¶ 2; underscore added.)

14. The Non-Compete Agreement also provides,

4. Specific Performance. The Designated Person agrees that, in the event of any breach or threatened breach by the Designated Person of any covenant, obligation or other provision set forth in this Noncompetition Agreement: (i) Parent and each of the other Beneficiaries will suffer irreparable harm that cannot adequately be compensated for with monetary damages; and (ii) Parent and each of the other Beneficiaries shall be entitled (in

² ““Affiliate” shall mean, with respect to any Person, any other Person that as of the date of this Noncompetition Agreement or as of any subsequent date, directly or indirectly, through one or more intermediaries, controls, is controlled by or is under common control with such specified Person.” (Exh. B., ¶ 14(a).)

³ ““Specified Business Contact” shall mean any Person: (i) who was a customer or supplier of the Business on or prior to the Effective Date; or (ii) that had a sponsorship or other business relationship with the Business on or prior to the Effective Date.” (Exh. B, ¶ 14(g).)

1 addition to any other remedy that may be available to it,
2 including monetary damages) to seek and obtain: (x) a 3 decree or order of specific performance or mandamus to 4 enforce the observance and performance of such covenant, 5 obligation or other provision; and (y) an injunction 6 restricting such breach or threatened breach. The 7 Designated Person further agrees that no Beneficiary shall 8 be required to obtain, furnish or post any bond or similar 9 instrument in connection with or as a condition to 10 obtaining any remedy referred to in this Section 4, and the 11 Designated Person irrevocably waives any right it may 12 have to require any Beneficiary to obtain, furnish or post 13 any such bond or similar instrument.

14 (Exh. B, ¶ 4.)

15 15. Finally, the Non-Compete Agreement provides that 16 Attorneys' Fees. If any legal action or other legal 17 proceeding relating to this Noncompetition Agreement or 18 the enforcement of any provision of this Noncompetition 19 Agreement is brought against any party hereto, the 20 prevailing party shall be entitled to recover reasonable 21 attorneys' fees, costs and disbursements (in addition to any 22 other relief to which the prevailing party may be entitled).

23 (Exh. B, ¶ 10.)

24

25 II. Post-Merger Discovery By LegalZoom of Komaiko's Misrepresentations

26 16. Prior to the merger, Komaiko was aware that in assessing a potential 27 transaction with Amicus, LegalZoom was focused on the potential for profitability 28 offered, and the viability of the business model that had been developed, by Amicus.

1 Komaiko made representations to LegalZoom respecting the future profitability and 2 projected growth of Amicus, even though Komaiko knew (or should have known) 3 that the growth projected was not sustainable because the business model was not 4 viable and that Amicus could not achieve the financial results Komaiko projected.

5 17. LegalZoom also believed that the past success and expected continued
6 success of Amicus following a merger with a LegalZoom subsidiary was dependant 7 on Amicus' primary human capital – Komaiko and Que. Accordingly, it was only 8 with the assurance that Komaiko and Que, who were at that time living together as a 9 couple, would continue to collaborate and jointly run Amicus post-merger that 10 LegalZoom decided to consummate the transaction.

11 18. After the merger closed, however, LegalZoom learned that several of 12 Komaiko's representations on which it had relied were false:

13 A. After receiving financials for July 2014 and thereafter, 14 LegalZoom learned that Komaiko had misrepresented the projected profitability of 15 Amicus, which, as later discovered, was far from being profitable.

16 B. Komaiko also made misrepresentations concerning the viability 17 of the Amicus business model. Indeed, after the merger, Komaiko admitted to 18 Eddie Hartman ("Hartman") and others at LegalZoom that he had always known 19 that the Amicus business model was unworkable.

20 C. Prior to the Merger, Komaiko concealed his plan to end his 21 romantic relationship with Que, notwithstanding Komaiko's representations that he 22 and Que would continue to work cooperatively to manage Amicus after the merger.
23 Komaiko fully understood that Komaiko's and Que's continued working partnership 24 was a critical component of the merger and was an asset of Amicus in which 25 LegalZoom placed substantial value. Among other things, Komaiko was aware that 26 Que was required to execute an employment agreement with Amicus as a condition
27 of the merger, and that the payments due by LegalZoom under the Merger 28 Agreement were, in part, directly tied to Que and Komaiko continuing to work for

1 Amicus after the merger. Komaiko nonetheless failed to disclose and concealed 2 from LegalZoom the imminent end to Komaiko's relationship upon the completion 3 of the merger, knowing that such post-merger action would severely and adversely 4 affect the ability of Komaiko and Que to work together.

5 19. Komaiko's intent to hide or misrepresent these material facts is 6 demonstrated by Komaiko's pushing without justification to close the merger as 7 soon as possible before the end of July 2014, when the next financials would be 8 available. Komaiko knew that LegalZoom would not have consummated the merger 9 had it known the true circumstances of Amicus, and, therefore, Komaiko hid these 10 facts.

11 20. LegalZoom reasonably relied on Komaiko's representations when it 12 decided to proceed with the merger transaction. Had LegalZoom knew the truth
13 regarding the projected profitability of Amicus, Komaiko's analysis of the Amicus 14 business model, and/or that Komaiko and Que were no longer a couple (and thus 15 unlikely to be able to continue working together in a productive manner), it would 16 not have consummated the merger.

17 21. As a direct and proximate result of Komaiko's misrepresentations, 18 which also constitute a breach of Section 2.22 of the Merger Agreement, 19 LegalZoom has suffered in excess of $4 million dollars in damages (i.e., 20 compensation paid or remaining due under the Merger Agreement).

21 22. On October 7, 2015, in accordance with Sections 6.3(a) and 6.5(a) of 22 the Merger Agreement, LegalZoom served Komaiko with the required Notice of 23 Indemnification Claim, advising him that he had committed fraud and breached 24 Section § 2.22 of the Merger Agreement. Pursuant to Section 6.5(b), Komaiko has 25 thirty (30) days from the Service of the Notice of Indemnification Claim to respond.
26 If Komaiko fails to serve his response, or if during the 30 days following service of 27 his response the parties are unable to reach a negotiated resolution, LegalZoom will 28 amend this Complaint to include claims, inter alia, for Breach of Contract and Fraud

1 to seek recovery of all damages incurred plus, as to the fraud claim, punitive 2 damages.

4 III. Post Merger Conduct Of Komaiko

5 23. The Merger Agreement provided for the following total payments to 6 the pre-merger shareholders of Amicus, allocated on their pro-rata interest in 7 Amicus:

- 8 A. The “Upfront Consideration” of $3 million dollars, payable 9 within five business days of the closing of the transaction;
- 10 B. The “Reserve Payment” of $2 million, payable on July 1, 2018, 11 unless the business was discontinued, in which case the Reserve 12 Payment would be accelerated and become immediately due and 13 payable; and
- 14 C. Additional “Earnout Payments”, payable only if Amicus met 15 certain profitability goals.

16 24. As noted above, however, Komaiko knew that, contrary to his 17 representations to LegalZoom, not only was Amicus not imminently profitable, but 18 that the Amicus business model was unworkable. As a result, Komaiko knew that 19 the Earnout Payments called for under the Merger Agreement would never be 20 triggered. Accordingly, after the Upfront Consideration, Komaiko’s financial 21 interest under the Merger Agreement was limited to his share of the Reserve 22 Payment – i.e., approximately $800,000.

23 25. Knowing that Amicus was never going to be profitable, Komaiko did 24 not want to spend his energies trying to fix an unfixable problem. Accordingly, 25 almost immediately after the close of the Merger Agreement, Komaiko ceased 26 performing his duties as CEO of Amicus. By way of example, and not limitation:

- 27 A. Komaiko has had repeated extended absences from Amicus 28 during the over fourteen months since the merger closed.

1 Among other things, Komaiko took extended vacations and 2 essentially was unavailable for almost all of August and 3 September, 2014, and again in the spring of 2015;

- 4 B. Komaiko consistently misrepresented his whereabouts;
5 C. Komaiko devoted his time and energies to other ventures, 6 including, on information and belief, a marijuana-related 7 business.

8 26. Komaiko knew, however, that his behavior would give LegalZoom 9 grounds to terminate his employment. This created a $400,000 problem for 10 Komaiko, as if he quit absent “Good Reason” or was terminated for cause in 11 advance of the Reserve Payment date – i.e., July 1, 2018 – the Reserve Payment 12 would drop 50%.

13 27. Komaiko, therefore, wanted to trigger an immediate payout of the 14 Reserve Payment – which would occur if LegalZoom discontinued the Amicus 15 business – by taking affirmative steps to damage Amicus’ business operations.

16 28. In connection therewith, on multiple occasions Komaiko approached 17 Que – a “Specified Individual” under the Non-Compete Agreement – and proposed 18 that she help Komaiko “tank” Amicus in the hopes of causing LegalZoom to 19 discontinue the Amicus business, triggering an acceleration of the Reserve Payment.
20 This plan to have Que help him sabotage Amicus comports with his abandonment of 21 his obligations as CEO.

22 29. Of course, if Komaiko’s plan with Que to sabotage Amicus were 23 successful, it would necessarily:

- 24 A. “interfere. . .with the relationship of [LegalZoom and Amicus] 25 with. . .Specified Business Contacts”; and 26 B. Que would “leave...her employment...with” Amicus.

27 (Exh. B, ¶ 2.)

28

FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Breach of Contract – Against All Defendants)

30. Plaintiff hereby incorporates by reference and realleges each of the 4 allegations of Paragraph 1 through 29, inclusive.

5 31. Plaintiff has performed all of the terms, conditions, covenants and 6 promises required to be performed by it in accordance with the terms and conditions 7 of the Agreement, except those which it has been prevented from performing by 8 Defendants.

9 32. Komaiko has breached both the express terms of the Non-Compete 10 Agreement, as well as the covenant of good faith and fair dealing read in to the Non-11 Compete Agreement, by way of the conduct alleged above in paragraphs 26 and 27.

12 33. Accordingly, as a direct and proximate result of Defendants' breaches 13 of the Non-Compete Agreement, Plaintiff has suffered damages in an amount 14 subject to proof at trial and greater than the jurisdictional requirements of this Court.

15 34. Further, LegalZoom is entitled to specific performance of the Non-16 Compete Agreement by way of a temporary and permanent injunction barring 17 Defendants from continuing to:

18 A. directly or indirectly, personally or through others, encouraging, 19 inducing, attempt to induce, soliciting or attempting to solicit (on 20 the Defendants' own behalf or on behalf of any other person) any 21 Specified Individual to leave his or her employment, consulting 22 or independent contractor relationship with LegalZoom or any of 23 its affiliated entities; and 24 B. directly or indirectly, personally or through others, interfering or 25 attempt to interfere with the relationship of LegalZoom or any of 26 its affiliated entities with any Specified Business Contact.

28 As to the First Cause of Action

1. For compensatory damages according to proof at trial;

 - B. directly or indirectly, personally or through others, interfering or attempt to interfere with the relationship of LegalZoom or any of its affiliated entities with any Specified Business Contact.
3. For attorneys' fees and costs of suit incurred herein, to the maximum allowed by law; and
4. For such further and other relief as the Court deems just and proper.
